

Prestashop Bundle Product

Do you wish to offer a product that consists of two or more than two products? If yes, then Prestashop bundle product is what you should be looking for.

Prestashop Bundle Product module enables you to create a bundle product by combining multiple products.

Now, create two types of bundle product with the help of this module. The two types of bundle product are namely normal bundle product & custom bundle product.

Normal bundle product consists of some specific products. Here, a customer doesn't get an option to choose products which he/she may wish to buy from the bundle.

Whereas, the custom bundle product will allow your customers to choose products of their choice from available sections.

Additionally, the Prestashop Bundle Products also provides an option of advanced feature. This option enables store owners to add quantity-wise discount on the sections of the bundle product.

The feature also allows you to add all products of a category/sub-category in one go.

NOTE

1. Prestashop Bundle Product module is compatible with PrestaShop version 9.x.x and multi-store feature.
2. Prestashop Bundle Product module is compatible with catalog's new product page.
3. You can not use the customization feature in the bundle product.

Selector Settings

This section is particularly added for the better functioning of the module.

Although the selectors are already filled according to Prestashop Classic Theme, it's possible that it might not work correctly with your custom theme.

Hence, in order to make the work easier, we have provided these fields where you can add selectors for various fields & buttons by yourself.

Also, you can choose to show sub-product section on the following positions on the product page.

- Below product image thumbnail
- In product additional information section
- In product tabs
- On product footer

In case, if you face any difficulty while adding selectors, please raise a ticket here. We would be more than happy to assist you.

Clear database

Admin can delete the temporary data of the module to enhance its performance.

Schedule the data deletion of the module by inserting the URL mentioned in the below screenshot in cron tasks manager.

Also, the admin can manually delete temporary data by clicking on 'Execute now' button.

Create a new bundle product

To create a new bundle product, you need to follow the same process as you do for creating a normal product.

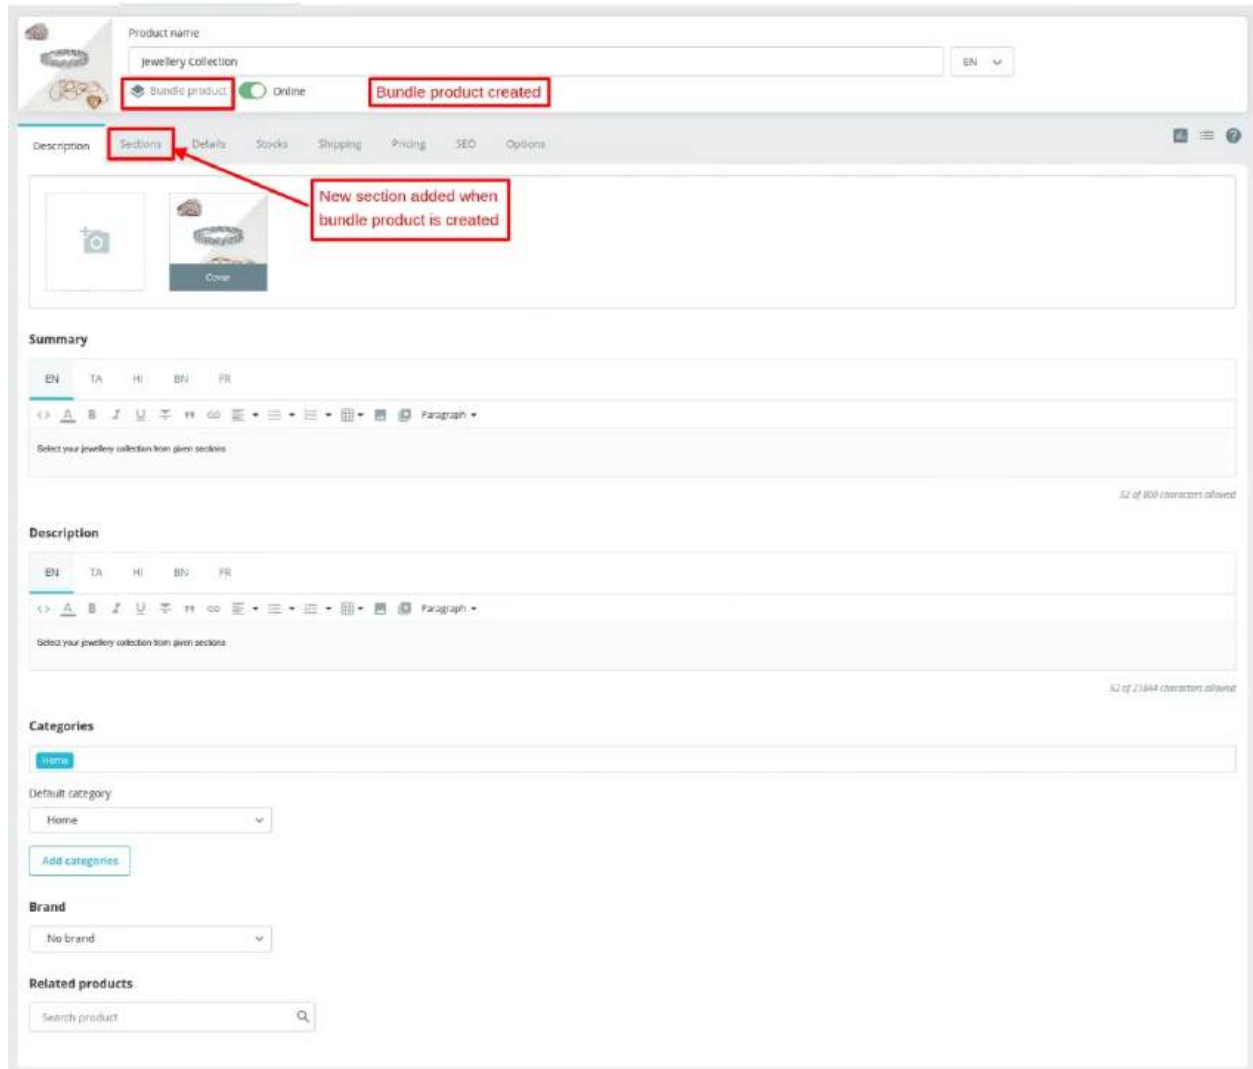

The screenshot shows a product management interface with a modal window open. The modal contains the following options:

- Standard product
- Product with combinations
- Pack of products
- Virtual product
- Bundle product (highlighted with a red box)

Below the options, there is a note: "An intangible product that doesn't require shipping. You can also add a downloadable file." At the bottom right of the modal is a button labeled "Add new product".

Select bundle product and click on 'add new product' button.

Create Section

Here, you can view various sections created for the bundle product. These sections help us to create a custom bundle product.

Under a section, There are some options which need even more explanation apart from the image. Those options are:

- Active: Choose to activate or deactivate this particular section.
- Section Required: Enable this option to make selection of product from this section necessary.
- Allow customer to choose quantity: Enable this option to allow your customers' to choose the quantity of the sub-products from the bundle.
- Minimum quantity: Here admin needs to specify the minimum quantity that a customer can buy.
- Maximum Quantity: Admin can defined the maximum total number of quantities which a customer can purchase from this section.
- Allow quantity wise discount: Admin can enable this option to set different discount criteria based on the number of quantities added by customers.

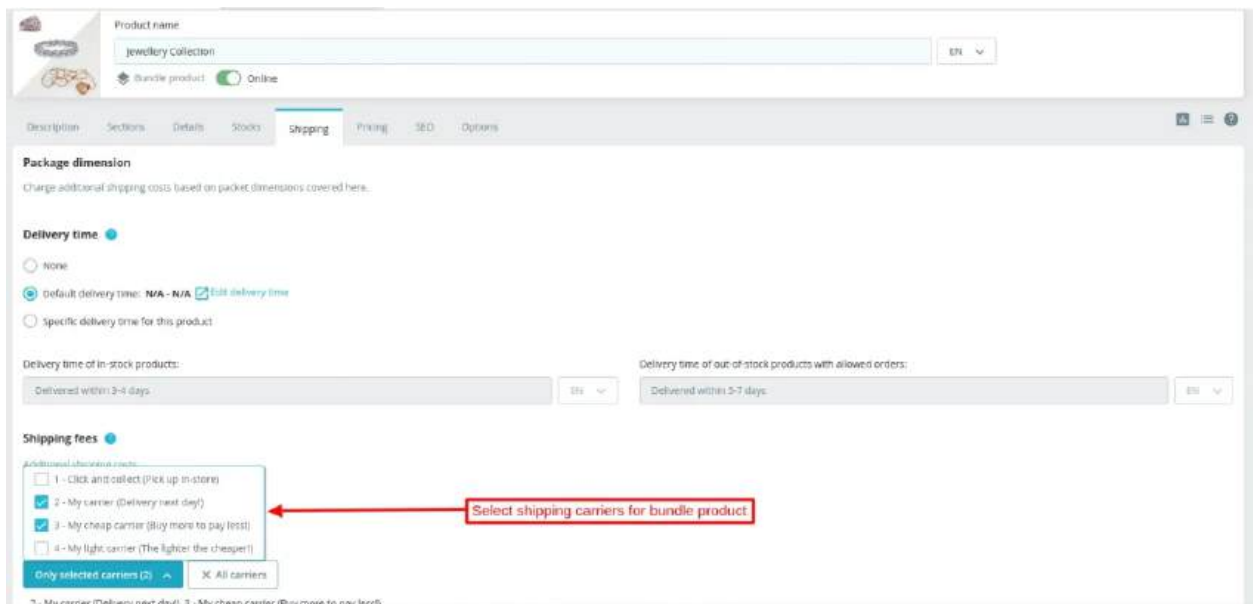

The screenshot displays the 'Section fields' configuration page for a bundle product. At the top, the 'Product name' is 'Jewellery collection' and 'Bundle product' is checked. The 'Section fields' tab is active, showing a search bar for 'Add products for bundle' and a list of products to add. A red box labeled 'Enter name of section' points to the 'Section name' field. Another red box labeled 'Search product to add in bundle' points to the search bar. A third red box labeled 'Choose to make this product as default product for this section' points to the 'Default product' radio button for the first product. A large red box on the right contains settings for the section, with a red box below it listing instructions: 'Enable/Disable section.', 'Make product selection from this section required.', 'Allow customers to choose quantities for the product.', 'Set minimum quantity required for purchase and set the limit to maximum quantity of the products which can be purchased from this section.', and 'Enable quantity wise discount option.' At the bottom, a red box labeled 'Click here to edit combinations' points to the 'Edit combinations' button, and another red box labeled 'Click here to make this product exclusively for bundle' points to the 'Only for bundle' radio button.

When admin clicks on Edit Combinations, a popup appears on the screen from where he can change the quantity of combinations and default combination.

Show reserved quantity on normal product

Suppose the available quantity of a product Ring1 is 100 and the quantity of the same product available for bundle is 50.

If "Show reserved quantity on normal product" is enabled, then the customer can purchase 50 quantities of the product Ring 1 i.e. 100 (Product Quantity) - 50 (Quantity reserved for bundle) = 50.

The screenshot shows a product page for 'RING1' on a website named 'my store'. The page features a large image of a diamond ring with a 'NEW' badge. The price is listed as ₹50.00, with tax included. The product is described as a 'Gold plated ring'. A quantity selector is set to 1, with an 'ADD TO CART' button and a heart icon. Below the product image is a smaller thumbnail of the ring. To the right, there is a section for a bundle of jewelry, titled 'To get extra benefit purchase this product with following bundle -', with a 'CONFIGURE' button and a starting price of ₹18.90. Further down, there are three policy links: 'Security policy', 'Delivery policy', and 'Return policy', each with an edit icon and a note '(edit with the Customer Reassurance module)'. At the bottom, there are two tabs: 'Description' and 'Product Details'. The 'Product Details' tab is active and shows 'In stock 50 Items'. A red box highlights this text, with an arrow pointing to another red box containing the text 'Product quantity available for purchase.' Below the tabs, there is a 'Comments (0)' section and a note 'No customer reviews for this moment'.

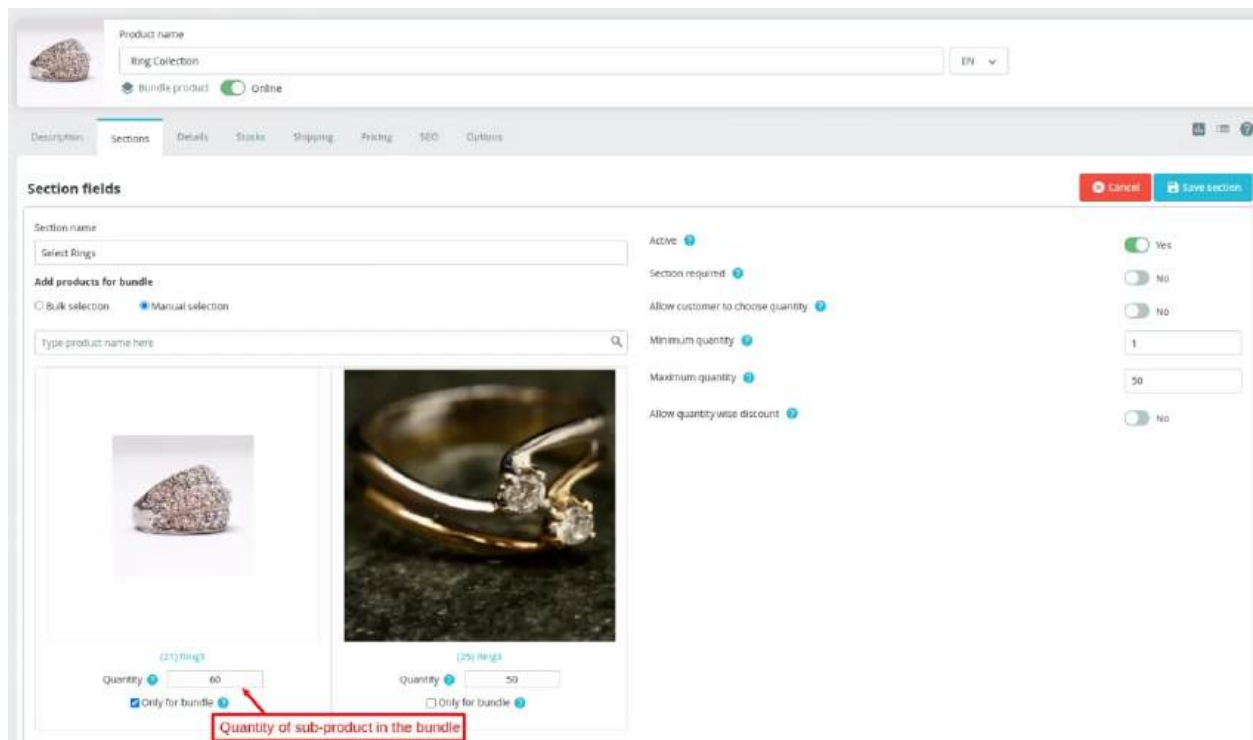

In the above screenshot, we can see the excluded quantity of sub-product of bundle is shown on the normal product page.

If admin adds the same product in different bundles, then in such case quantity of a normal product will be based on the highest quantity set for the product in different bundles.

Lets understand with the help of an example.

Suppose admin has created two bundle products: Jewellery Collection and Rings Collection.

For the bundle Jewellery Collection he has added 50 quantity for the product Ring1 and for Rings Collection he added 60 quantity of the same product.

Now, as per the setting 40 quantity of Ring1 will display on the normal product page.

Show Bundle Sub-products on shopping cart pop-up and checkout page:

If admin has enabled the display of bundle sub-products on the cart pop-up then all the products chosen by the customer in the bundle will be shown.

Similarly, if admin enables the display of sub-products information on the checkout page, then the sub-products will be shown as:

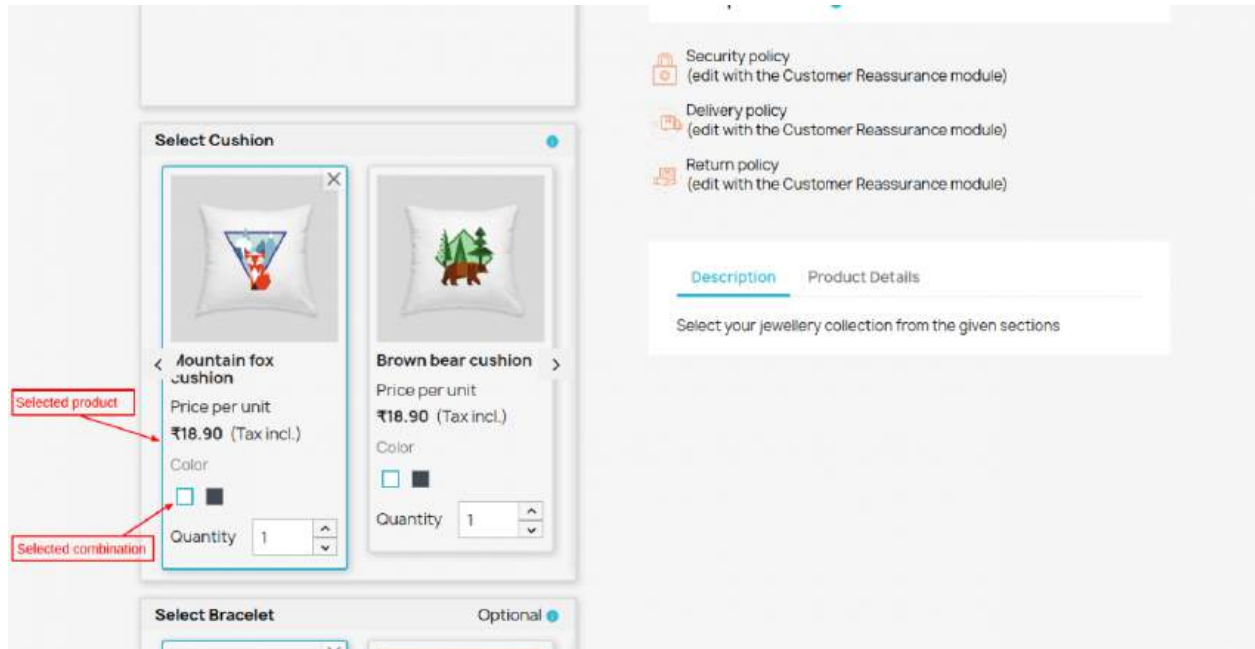

Customer group discount on Bundle: This option allows admin to enable/disable the customer group discount benefit on the bundle product price.

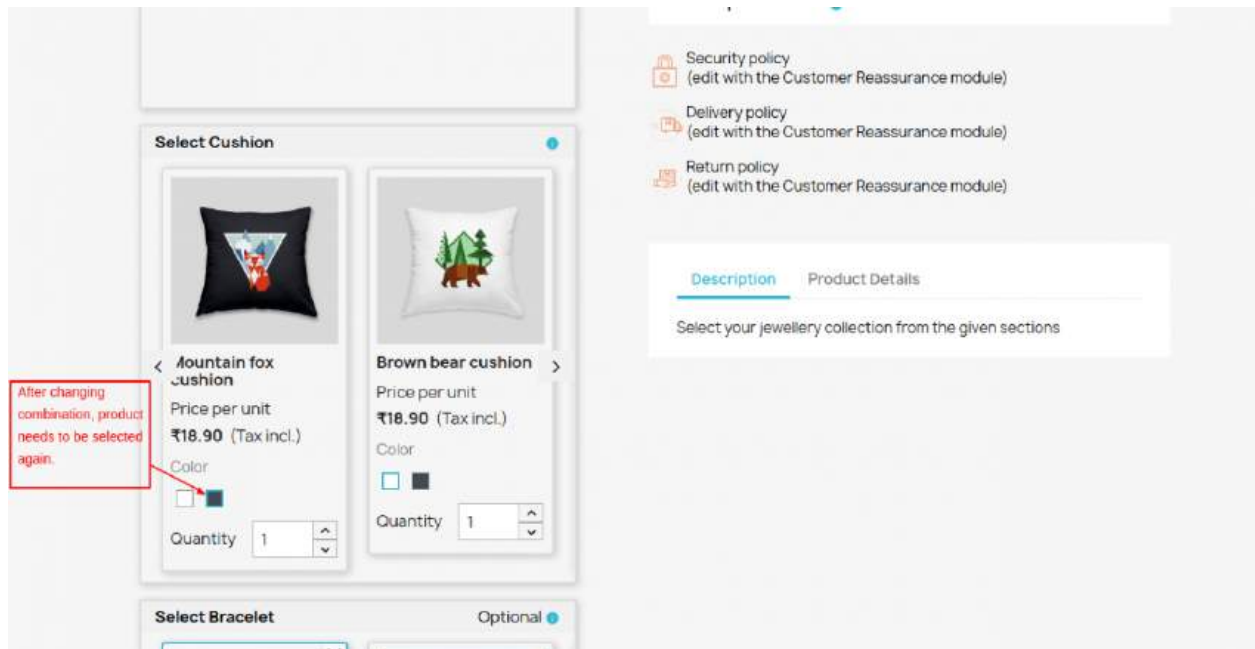

If disabled, then customer group discounts will not be applicable on the bundle product price.

Select product on combination change: Admin can choose whether to automatically keep the product selected when the customer changes the product combination,.

Or whether customer need to manually select the product again once they change the product combination.

If this option is enabled. Once the customer changes the product combination, they will have to again manually select the product.

If this option is disabled, then the product will not have be selected again.

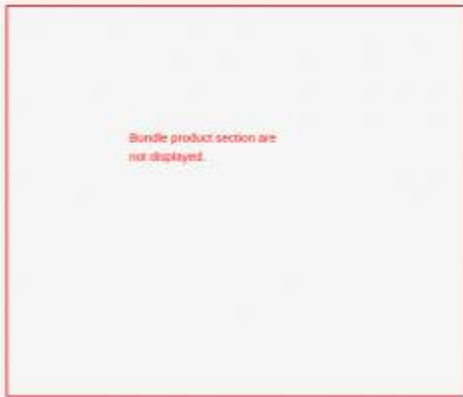

Hide Bundle product selection: If admin has created a bundle with fixed products i.e. only 1 product per section, where customers do not get the option to select products.

In this case admin can hide the display of bundle sections from the customers.

If enabled, the bundle product sections on the left side will not be displayed.

Customers will also not get to choose products from such bundle, as there is only 1 fixed product in each section.

Hide sub-products price in bundle product's section

If enabled, then price of sub-products will remain hidden in bundle section.

The screenshot shows a product page for 'Jewellery Collection 1' on a website named 'my store'. The page features a main product image with a 'NEW' badge, a price of '$80.00', and a section for selecting sub-products. The sub-product selection is divided into two columns: 'Select Rings' and 'Select Necklace'. Each column has a 'Choose product' dropdown menu, a product image, a quantity selector, and a 'SELECTED' button. A red box highlights the text 'Sub-product price is hidden in bundle product section'.

On product footer

Create Section of the Bundle Product

Now, coming back to the part of Section creation again. In this part, we will see the significance & use of various options.

As per settings, the first two sections of the bundle product are necessary & third section is optional.

Product name: Jewellery Collection

Bundle product: Online

Sections: Details, Stocks, Shipping, Pricing, SEO, Options

Search:

Section ID	Section name	Active	Quantity wise discount	Required	Number of products	Action

2	Select Cushion	✓	No	Yes	3
3	Select Bracelet	✓	No	No	2

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Hence, the customer only needs to select a product from the first & second section to place an order of the bundle product.

Here, the customer has selected Ring 1 & Necklace 1 of ₹40 & ₹18.90 respectively.

As the third section of the product was optional, customer can proceed to order without selecting any of the product from the 3rd section.

Select your jewellery collection from the given sections

These 2 sections are mandatory and customer needs to select at least 1 product from each of these sections.

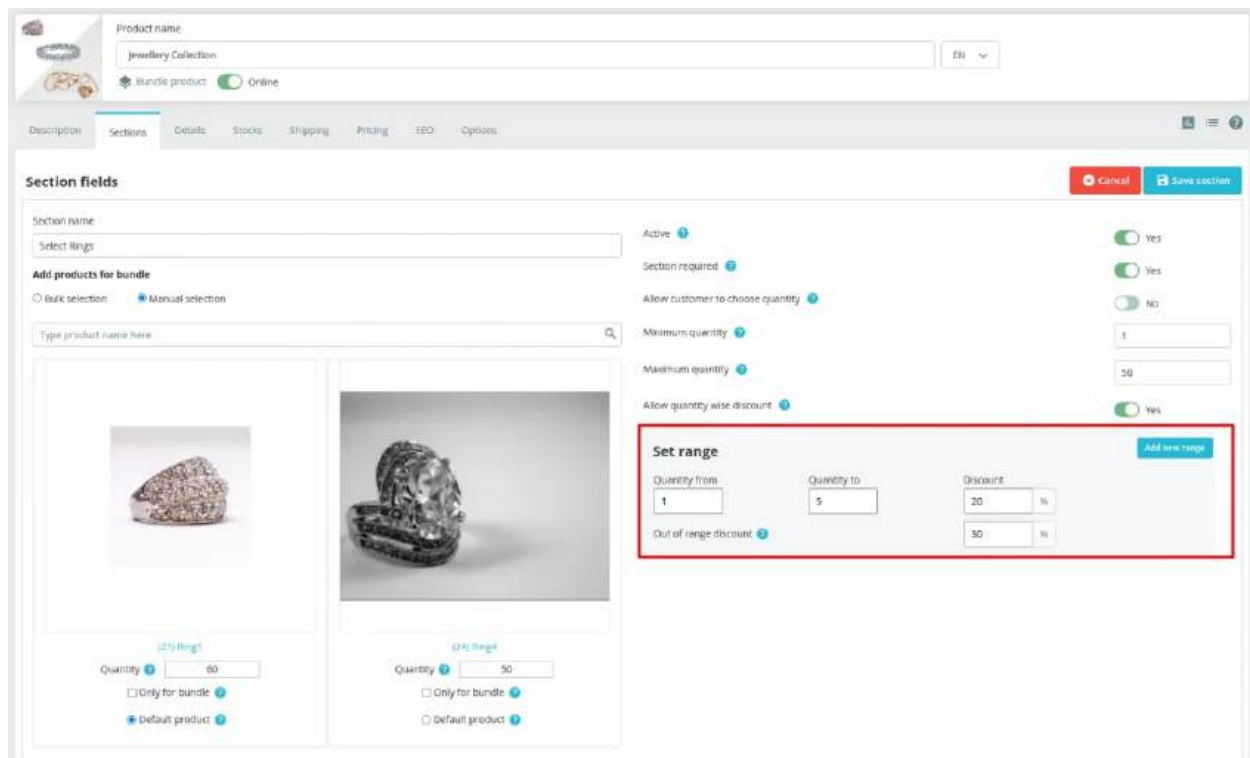

This section is optional and customer can proceed to buy the bundle without selecting any product from this section.

Quantity wise discount

Offer discounts to the customers on the basis of the quantity. Set the range of the quantity & their corresponding discount.

According to the example settings, if any customer tries to buy ≤ 5 quantity or ≥ 1 quantity of the product, then 20% of discount will be applied.

On the other hand, if the customer wishes to buy more than 5 quantity then 30% of the discount will be applied.

The screenshot shows a product configuration interface for a ring. The product name is "Jewellery Collection". The interface includes tabs for "Description", "Sections", "Details", "Stocks", "Shipping", "Pricing", "SEO", and "Options". The "Sections" tab is active, showing "Section fields" for "Select Rings".

Key settings visible:

- Active: Yes
- Section required: Yes
- Allow customers to choose quantity: No
- Minimum quantity: 1
- Maximum quantity: 50
- Allow quantity wise discount: Yes

The "Set range" section is highlighted with a red box and contains the following configuration:

Quantity from	Quantity to	Discount
1	5	20 %
		30 %

Below the "Set range" section, there are two product cards for rings. The first card, labeled "(21) Ring1", shows a ring with a quantity of 60. The second card, labeled "(24) Ring2", shows a ring with a quantity of 50. Both cards have checkboxes for "Only for bundle" and "Default product".

The customer chose to buy 8 quantity of Ring 1. Now, let's see how the calculation of price is taking place.

The price of Ring 1 is ₹40.

8 quantity of this Ring 1 would cost ₹320.

There is a 30% discount if someone buy more than 5 quantity.

30% of ₹320 is ₹96. Therefore, the effective price of the product will be ₹320-₹96 = ₹224.

In another case, the customer wishes to buy 4 quantity of Ring 1. Now, let's see how the calculation of price will take place.

The price of Ring 1 is ₹40.

4 quantity of this Ring 1 would cost ₹160.

There is a 20% discount if someone buy less than 5 quantity.

20% of ₹160 is ₹32. Hence, the effective price of the product will be ₹160-₹32 = ₹128.

Prestashop Bundle Products - Pricing

In an earlier instance of pricing, I mentioned that we will take this section in detail.

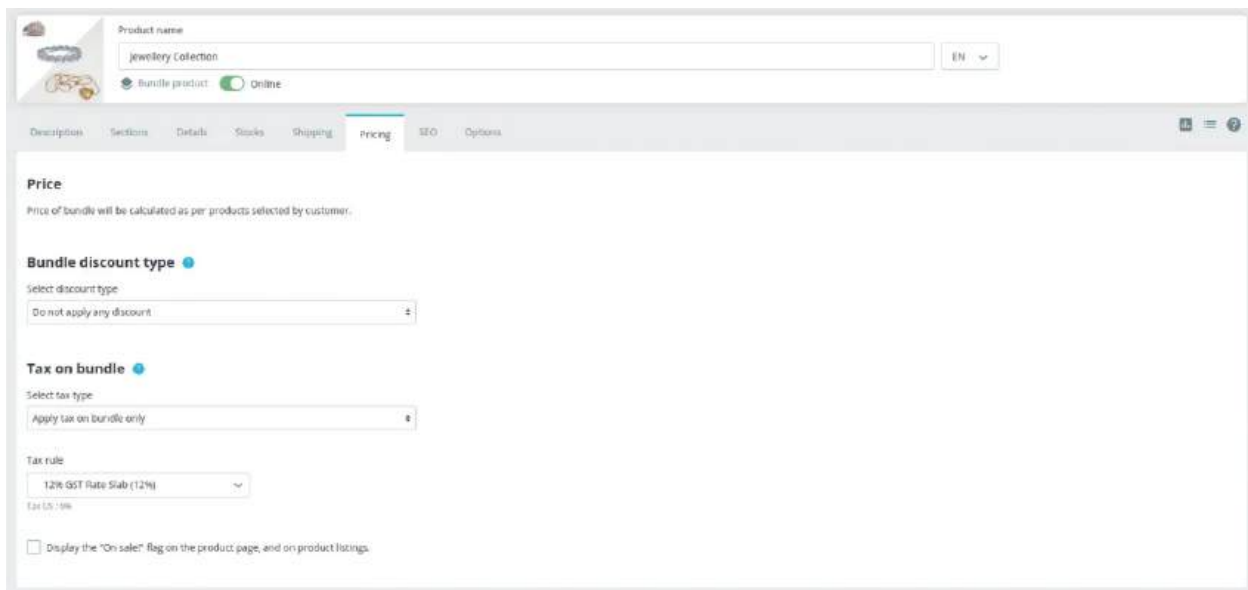

Now, let's see what are the available options under this section & what is their significance.

Available options under this section are:

- Price: The price of the bundle product purely depends on the products selected by the customer from different sections.
- Bundle discount type: You can provide discounts on the bundle in 4 different ways.
- Tax on bundle: You can choose to apply tax on bundle product or on their sub-products. Also, select the tax rate for the bundle product.

Case 1 : Do not apply any discount.

In this case, no discount & tax rule of FR Taux réduit (10%) is applicable on the bundle.

The screenshot shows the Prestashop Pricing configuration page for a bundle product named "Jewellery Collection". The "Bundle product" toggle is turned on. The "Price" section indicates that the bundle price is calculated based on the products selected by the customer. Under "Bundle discount type", the "Do not apply any discount" option is selected. Under "Tax on bundle", the "Apply tax on bundle only" option is selected, and the "Tax rule" is set to "12% GST Rate Slab (12%)". There is also a checkbox for "Display the 'On sale' flag on the product page, and on product listings" which is currently unchecked.

So, when the customer from India tries purchase the product, tax of 12% will be applicable.

Case 4: Bundle specific price

Admin can also select specific price of the bundle product. The functionality of a specific price is same as Prestashop.

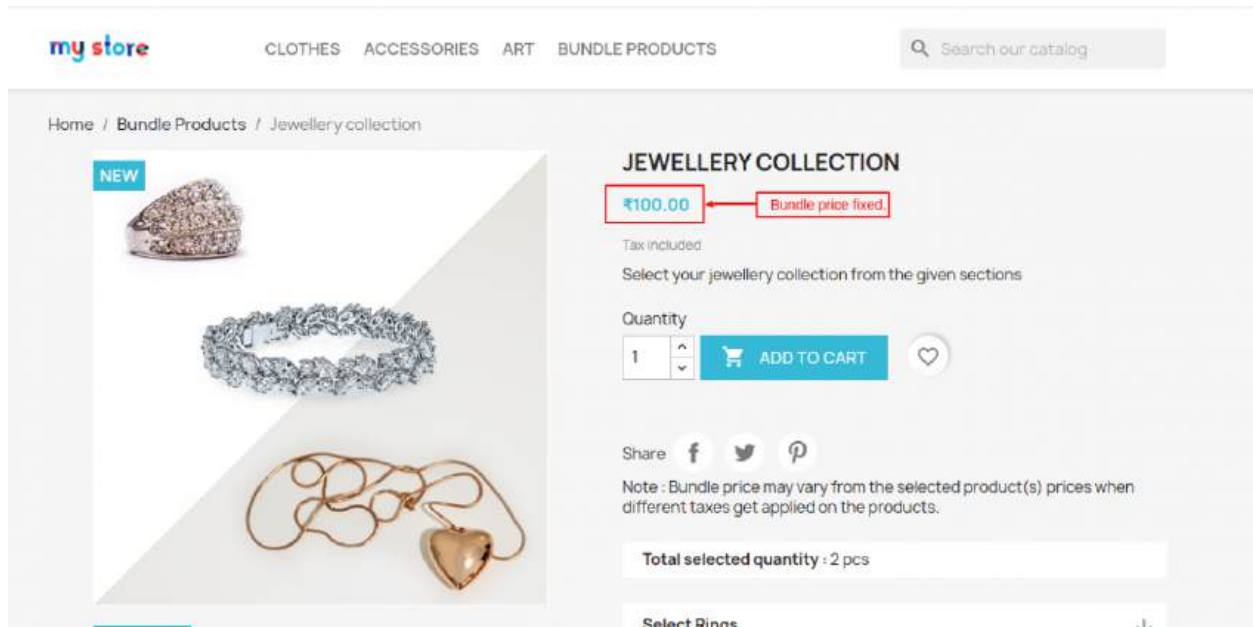

Here, admin has fixed the price of bundle product to ₹100 for all customers, groups, currencies & countries.

The screenshot shows the Prestashop admin interface for configuring a bundle product. The product name is "jewellery collection" and it is marked as a "Bundle product" and "Online". The "Pricing" tab is selected, showing the "Price" section. The "Bundle discount type" is set to "Bundle specific price". The "Tax on bundle" is set to "Apply tax on bundle only" with a tax rule of "2% GST Rate Slab (2%)". The "Specific prices" section contains a table with one entry: "All currencies", "All countries", "All groups", "All customers", and a "Specific price (tax excl.)" of ₹100.00. A red box highlights the price value with the text "Bundle price will be fixed at ₹100".

ID	Combination	Currency	Country	Group	Store	Customer	Specific price (tax excl.)	Discount (tax incl.)	Duration	Units
1		All currencies	All countries	All groups		All customers	₹100.00	--	Unlimited	1

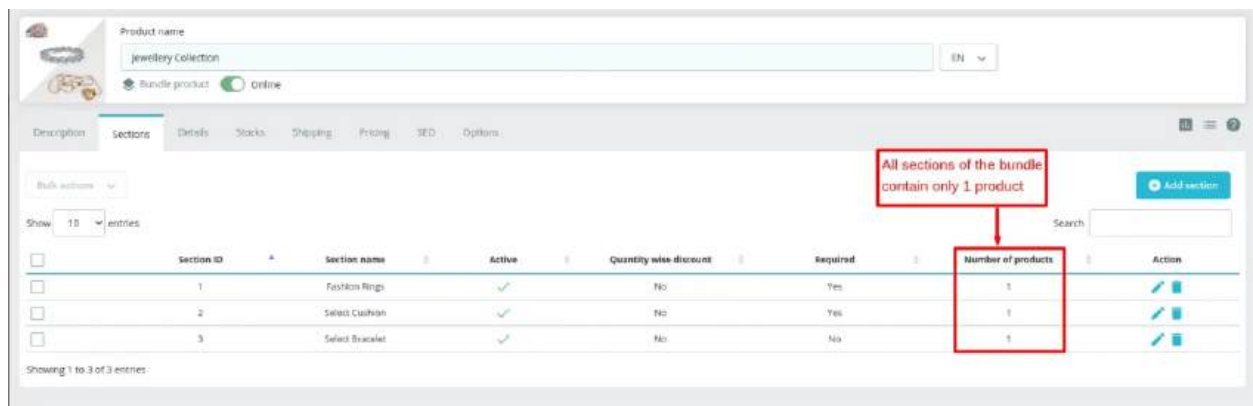

Irrespective of the products selected by the customer, the price of the bundle product will be fixed at ₹100.

Create Normal Bundle Product

Admin can also choose to create a normal bundle product. Under normal bundle product, a customer does not have an option to choose products from various sections.

To create a normal bundle product, admin just need to add one product in each section.

Under such scenario, a customer can not customize the bundle with products that he/she may wish to buy.

A customer can order this bundle product with its existing sub-products only.
